

Palliative Care Facilitator Education

LEAP Facilitator Training is a three-phased course for health care professionals who want to teach LEAP courses. LEAP Facilitator Training provides an in-depth learning experience on essential facilitation approaches and educational methods and prepares learners to become LEAP facilitators and deliver LEAP courses.

LEAP Facilitator Training takes an inter-professional approach and promotes teamwork and collaboration among different health care professionals who work in a variety of settings and organizations.

Who is it for?

LEAP Facilitator Training is specifically for experienced palliative care providers (e.g. physicians, nurses, pharmacists, social workers, paramedics, etc.). To be eligible to take LEAP Facilitator Training, learners must have experience as an educator and have two years of cumulative experience working in palliative care.
